NEPAL NEEDS YOUR HELP

EMERGENCY APPEAL: HELP NEPAL RECOVER FROM DEVASTATING FLOODS

A glacial collapse on August 26, 2026 triggered catastrophic flash flooding along the Bhotekoshi-Trishuli river corridors, devastating communities across Nepal's mountain valleys. The colossal floods have destroyed homes, taken lives and left thousands of families without food, clean water and shelter.

Sang Lama Tamang, ward chairman, Amachhodingmo-1, Rasuwa says, "We are completely cut off because there are no roads. Even those who can afford food cannot find anything to buy."

– The Kathmandu Post

One of the survivors in a displaced camp says, "We have no money, no clothes and there is almost nothing to buy in the Kolani market."

Rajendra Lama, medical superintendent, Trishuli Hospital, Nuwakot says, "With so many people living together in one place, there is a risk of disease spreading."

– The Straits Times

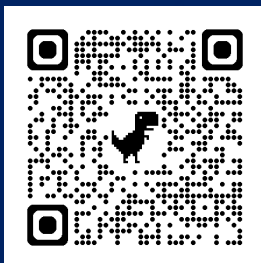

Alice Akunga, UNICEF Representative to Nepal says, "Many children witnessed distressing events and are now struggling with fear, anxiety and grief, with some unable to speak about what they experienced."

– UNICEF

BNMT is dedicated to improving the health and wellbeing of the people of Nepal. We work with communities to build resilience and prepare for disasters. With your support, BNMT can help communities recover from the devastating floods and strengthen their ability to face future emergencies.
